TOBRUK VIRTUALLY SURROUNDED BY ENEMY FORCES

Is Focal Point of British Resistance To Axis Drives Against Suez Canal

SERIOUSLY THREATENED

United Nations Forces Try To Hamper Any Enemy Attempt To Attack It

By International News Service

CAIRO, June 18—The vital Libyan port of Tobruk, focal point of British resistance to Axis drives against the Suez Canal, is now virtually surrounded by German and Italian forces, military officials admitted today.

Tobruk is now "seriously threatened," it was admitted, and the enemy will soon be in touch with its perimeter defenses. United Nations forces are still operating to hamper any enemy attempt to attack it.

British and Imperial forces, thrown back under the impetus of smashing new attacks by heavily reinforced mechanized units under Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, have been compelled to withdraw from El Adem, 30 miles to the south, and from Sidi Rezegh, another important point southwest of the Tobruk forces.

As a result, the coastal road leading to Tobruk is now in enemy hands.

STATE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE ISSUES STATEMENT RELATIVE TO BLACKOUT TO BE HELD HERE ON JUNE 23

HARRISBURG, June 18—The State Council of Defense today issued the following statement:

The State-wide dusk-to-dawn practice blackout which has been called by the State Council of Defense has an important educational purpose. Its purpose is to teach the ten million citizens of Pennsylvania how to carry on their normal duties all night long with a minimum of light showing. Eastern counties will blackout on June 23, central counties on June 24, and western counties on June 25.

This practice blackout has been called at the request of the U. S. Army First Fighter Command, which has the responsibility for protecting us from enemy attack by air. They realize that if and when our European enemy starts to send his bombers over our state, it may be necessary for us to keep in semi-darkness every night, for night after night—perhaps for weeks at a stretch. Cities within 50 miles of the coast from Maine to Florida are already operating on this basis every night.

Now, it is one thing to shut off our lights for a half hour and keep dark

ELECTRIC ORGAN GIVEN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Name of Donor Not Divulged; Recital on Same Follows Dinner for Choir

TRUSTEES, ELDERS HOSTS

An un-named individual has presented to the Bristol Presbyterian Church a new electric organ.

Announcement of the gift was made last evening when trustees and elders of the church honored members of the choir at a dinner. The announcement of the gift was made by Harold Hanson, who served as toastmaster of the affair.

The organ will be used for the first time on Sunday, and will be dedicated in July. It is stated by church officials that the name of the giver has not been divulged to them, and that they have been informed the name is to be kept secret.

Following the choir dinner, served at Bowen's restaurant, last evening, the group adjourned to the church auditorium, where a recital was given on the new organ by Mrs. Marburg D. Weagley, church organist.

Thirty-five were served at dinner, the blessing being asked by the pastor of the church, the Rev. James R. Gailey. Later, professional acts were staged by a magician and a tumbler.

Hulmeville Wardens Are Given Their Instructions

HULMEVILLE, June 18—Final instructions were given to the air raid wardens of Hulmeville borough last evening regarding the dusk-to-dawn "blackout" planned for next Tuesday, when a meeting was called by Sector Warden H. A. Connor, in the town hall.

Mr. Connor told of the change made from five posts to four in the borough set-up; and of what was formerly known as the control center at the town hall now being known as the service center.

Post 1 extends from the western end of the borough as far as Green street; post 2 from Green street to Estill Alley; post 3 from Estill Alley to Reetz avenue; post 4 from Reetz avenue to the eastern limits of the borough.

Areas to be covered by a number of wardens were changed, the changes being necessitated because the majority of the wardens reside in one portion of the borough.

Wardens were urged to attend the defense meeting at South Langhorne Casino this evening at eight o'clock, at which time additional information will be given on the dusk-to-dawn "blackout."

BABY BOY ARRIVES

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lutz, Chestnut street, this morning, in Harriman Hospital.

ALL CADETS TO REPORT

All cadets, regular and "rookies," are to report for practice at Bristol high school, Friday evening, at 7:30, without fail.

Back To Boyhood Days

(By "The Stroller")

At the height of the torrential rain storm yesterday afternoon, Louis B. Gorton, Bristol's genial tax collector, went back to the days of his boyhood.

Mr. Gorton wanted to go to his home on Mill street about two and a half blocks from his office.

So off came the shoes and stockings, and trousers were rolled up to the knees. Then Mr. Gorton, with shoes and stockings under his arm, waded serenely down Pond street, which had really become a pond for the duration of the rain.

and still for that brief period. But, it is an entirely different matter to keep our lights off for a whole night, or for a week or for a month. Under these latter circumstances we are compelled to learn how to keep up our normal life in semi-darkness: to run a home, prepare meals and care for a family without our lights showing outside; to run a store, or hotel, to print a newspaper, to process and deliver milk, to continue industry—with a minimum of light inside, and with little or no light showing outside.

That is the purpose of the dusk-to-dawn practice blackout—so you will begin to learn by actual practice how to keep essential lights burning inside but with windows screened so that the reflection will not show outside to guide the enemy.

For one-half hour during the night all lighting will be extinguished. This half hour will be announced by sirens.

For the balance of the night, 8:30 p. m. to five a. m., traffic will proceed normally, and street lights will be on, but other exterior lighting must be off and interior lighting must be screened from outside view. Details of the regulations may be obtained from your local Council of Defense.

There will be other all-night practice blackouts which will follow this one.

Do your best now in this state-wide blackout game, and accept gracefully any criticism, so you can make a better record next time.

HULMEVILLE, June 18—In honor of Miss Olive Winslow, of Tullytown, members of the choir of Grace Episcopal Church arranged a shower of miscellaneous gifts last evening in the parish room of the church. ## ASK BUCKS COUNTIANS TO AID SALVAGE DRIVE

Shortage of Rubber To Be Augmented by Collection of Rubber Scrap

ALL SCRAP USABLE

With the shortage of rubber becoming more acute each day, Bucks county residents have been called upon, along with the entire nation, to concentrate in the next two weeks on the salvaging of all rubber scrap.

All filling stations throughout the county will serve as receiving depots for the rubber items, in accordance with an announcement last week by President Roosevelt. In his statement, the President revealed that the rubber shortage situation is far more desperate than most realize and that the Army and Navy have had to cut their use of rubber by 25 per cent, using solid rubber tires on some mechanized equipment even at a cost of efficiency.

Every Bucks county home, office, factory, and farm is expected to participate in this all-out drive for rubber scrap and it is hoped that everyone will get scrap to the filling stations within the next few days. The special campaign for rubber will end at midnight Tuesday, June 30, though the Salvage for Victory program will continue.

It has been pointed out that about one-third of the rubber used in armament can be scrap rubber. Items such as old hot water bottles or bathing caps may seem worthless but it takes only a few hundred pounds of such articles to provide the rubber for a great number of gas masks. Old rubber gloves, raincoats, galoshes—any item that has any rubber in it at all is now called upon for the war effort.

According to a report released by the State Salvage for Victory Committee, more than 50,000 tons of metal and 525 tons of rubber were collected from farms during the recent Farm Salvage Drive. What is more impressive to local residents is the fact that Bucks county exceeded its quota which called for an average of at least 500 pounds of metal and rubber per farm. This hearty response indicates that Bucks county residents are keenly aware of the dire need for scrap materials.

EXTEND VALID PERIOD OF SUGAR STAMPS 5 AND 6

Housewives Permitted To Buy Their Sugar Quotas In Advance

RATION IS UNCHANGED

WASHINGTON, June 18—(INS)—Price Administration experts acted today to empty bulging sugar warehouses by permitting housewives to buy their sugar ration quotas ahead of time.

It was announced that stamps No. 5 and 6 in the war ration books will be valid for sugar purchases for a period of four weeks instead of two as were the first four stamps. The individual consumer ration of half a pound of sugar a week remains unchanged.

The new plan was viewed as an attempt to cure a critical sugar shortage condition by making every pantry a little warehouse.

At the same time, it was announced that institutional and industrial users may obtain sugar allowances for a two month period—one month extension over the original regulation governing such allowances.

War Ration Stamp No. 4, now good for the purchase of a single pound of sugar, expires at midnight, June 27th. Stamp No. 5 then becomes valid for the purchase of two pounds of sugar for a period extending until midnight, July 25th, while Stamp No. 6, also

U. S. Bombers in Action on Far-Flung Fronts

London—Already credited with opening a new aerial "second front" in Europe, United States Army bombers were reported in action on far-flung theatres of war today, with heaviest emphasis upon defense of Sevastopol.

Disclosure that American Consolidated B-24 bombers are in action on the Crimean battlefield came to light together with full details of recent United States bombing attacks against the rich Ploesti oil-fields of Romania.

The "second front" thereby established by these mighty four-engined bombers, appears to embrace the entire South European basin from the western reaches of the Mediterranean to the northern shores of the Black Sea.

Nazi Germany itself admits that American aid to Russia is far from inconsiderable.

The Bucks County Defense Council today issued its first bulletin of instructions regarding the "dusk to dawn" air-raid practice on Tuesday night.

The bulletin reads: All of Bucks County will have a night-long air-raid practice on the night of Tuesday, June 23rd.

It will begin at 8.30 p. m. on that evening and last until 5 a. m. of the next day. This practice will be carried on at the same time in 31 counties adjacent to Bucks county, under similar conditions. It has been arranged in co-operation with the First Interceptor Command, U. S. Army Air Force.

During that period of blackout, complete actual air-raid regulations will be strictly enforced.

During this 30 minutes not a wheel will turn in Bucks County, except for ambulances, doctors' cars, fire engines on duty or other vehicles exempted by regulations. All traffic on the road will be halted on the right-hand side of the road and lights immediately extinguished, according to previous drills. All lights—street, business and dwellings will be either extinguished or so obscured that no light will appear on the outside. Defense production plants within the county will operate as required by specific instructions for those places.

PHILA. MAN INJURED; HITS R. R. ABUTMENT

X-Rays To Be Taken To Determine Full Extent of His Injuries

CAR BADLY DAMAGED

Failing to make the turn where Bristol Pike passes under the Pennsylvania Railroad over-head bridge to the west of Bristol, early this morning, Herman Thomsen, of Hoffman street, Philadelphia, was painfully injured.

Thomsen was travelling east on Route 13, and failed to negotiate the curve, crashing into the concrete abutment of the railroad bridge. His motor burst into flames, and Bristol Consolidated firemen were called.

Taken to Harriman Hospital, it was discovered that he suffered from chest injuries, lacerated and contused wound over the right eye, laceration of the left temple region, and injury to his right leg.

X-rays are to be taken today to determine full extent of injury to his chest; and X-rays may be taken of his lower limb.

The accident occurred shortly before two o'clock this morning, as Thomsen was driving alone. He was taken to the hospital by a passerby. Thomsen is employed by Brewster Aeronautical Company at Johnstown. He was still considerably dazed this morning, and unable to give a comprehensive account of how the accident occurred.

Pennsylvania Motor Police Guild, of South Langhorne barracks, investigated; and Bristol police were also called. The sedan which Thomsen was operating was greatly damaged.

WAR INSURANCE PLAN

A feature of the war emergency which has claimed little attention outside the maritime areas is the blanket insurance of all property in the United States against war damage. Its coverage of shipping has been helpful in encouraging merchant ships on the Atlantic Ocean frontier to take long chances in the danger zone.

The insurance is handled by the War Damage Corporation, with a capital of $100,000,000, subscribed by the Federal Government. But the plan is being changed to call for carrying the insurance at the expense of the insured. The capital of the WDC has been increased by act of Congress to $1,000,000,000. The business will now be handled through established fire insurance agencies, and applications for the new insurance must be made by June 30, when the present blanket insurance expires.

Congress was well-advanced in calling for the use of established agencies to handle the business instead of recruiting a new army of Federal employees for the purpose. It is an emergency precedent that should be surveyed, following the war, with a view of extending it into many other fields, including practically all the government loan business.

THE WARTIME GIRL

Now it is the "emergency girl." She is the product of the war emergency. She is wiser than the flapper, less self-centered than the career-girl type that Hollywood exploited, and has more charm than glamor.

The "emergency girl" of 1942 is not necessarily engaged in vital defense work. She may be just a housewife, but, as such, she is helping her country by her little economies and her planning of diets to build healthy, strong children. She may be a stenographer, a saleswoman or even an actress, but she has her own little niche in the wartime scheme of things.

The term "emergency girl" is one that may be well applied to all American women. Old and young, they are shoulder to shoulder with their men, providing spiritual as well as material support. It has been suggested that as a substitute to "emergency girl" the term "grrt girl" might be applied. That, too, is fitting.

TAKING RUMORS APART

Rumors have become an unavoidable feature of everyday life, it seems, and scientific notice of rumor-mongers was inevitable. A dispatch discloses that Indiana University has established a rumor clinic. The clinic will be conducted in connection with a war information center established previously, with assistance of faculty members who teach such subjects as psychology, sociology and publicity. Undergraduates are urged to take their war rumors to the clinic for analysis.

Light is expected to be shed on the identity of the type of person who starts a rumor, those who circulate rumors and the effect rumors have on public morale by scholarly examination of the subject. Both spoken and printed rumors will be studied. Students will be encouraged to help squelch rumors rather than keep them in circulation. It is hoped that out of this experiment may come a group trained in distinguishing gossip from fact.

War rumors seldom attain the dignity of publication, usually deal with the tragic side and invariably grow as they are repeated.

film version of the Henry Bellamann novel, is at the Strand Theatre. Ann Sheridan, Robert Cummings, Ronald Reagan and Betty Field are starred and the featured cast is headed by Charles Coburn, Judith Anderson, Claude Rains, Nancy Coleman, Maria Quesenskaya, Harry Davenport and Kaaren Verne.

The apparently humdrum small city of the American midlands, wherein all human passions and prejudices are encompassed in small space, has not often been used by the novelists or the movie makers as the locale for their product.

"Kings Row" dared to be different. It represents a frank unmasking of such a town, with the resultant high drama and the comedy, pathos and excitement that always are to be found there.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Admittedly Jack Benny—the gent from Waukegan, Illinois—has reached many turning points in his spectacular history. But the most recent turning point took place when Benny was signed to play his first straight comedy role—sans slapstick and zaniness—in "To Be Or Not To Be," now showing at the Bristol Theatre.

Like all comedians, Benny has long yearned to play straight comedy and for a long time Lubitsch has been anxious to give him the opportunity. So, when the script of "To Be Or Not To Be" took shape, the producer realized that the time had come to call in Benny.

RITZ THEATRE

A new Henry Aldrich burst upon the screen at the Ritz Theatre last night when Jimmy Lydon made his debut in the little role of Paramount's justly popular Aldrich Family series. This new Henry, Jackie Cooper's successor in the part, appears in "Henry Aldrich for President."

Excitement, thrills and melodrama that pulses with danger are the ingredients of "Bullet Scars," which opened last night at the Ritz.

of complete blackout is to simulate as closely as possible the conditions of an actual emergency. It is therefore suggested to the chief of fire, police, air warden, medical and transportation units that they individually plan in advance for the occurrence of "incidents" during that 30 minutes which will bring those services into action. For example: for air warden, a pretended bomb falling at a certain point; for Emergency Police, a blocked road or other transportation jam at another point; for fire, a fire alarm that would take the company in question on the road for a short distance; for transportation services, a run (in response to notification by the emergency police) of a limited number of cars to a nearby point to pick up refugees.

good for a two pound purchase, may be used from July 26th to August 22nd. OPA officials said that the periods of validity of subsequent stamps would be announced some time before August 22nd.

While there is a possibility that the present sugar ration may be slightly increased, officials said the serious shipping situation, combined with the demand of Great Britain, Russia and other nations, is more likely to cause sugar quotas to remain on the present basis.

The rationing of sugar, however, has resulted in big sugar companies being forced to hold the domestic crop in warehouses. This is said to be both difficult and expensive. This situation has been relieved in the past because housewives usually would buy enough sugar to last several weeks.

Under the new plan, consumers will be able to purchase sugar for four weeks in advance. If the plan is extended and broadened in the future, a person might be allowed to buy a family sugar allowance for two to three months ahead of time.

AUTHOR OF "GOODBYE, MR. CHIPS" AND "LOST HORIZON"

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

"How would you make money by backing my opinion?" Kitty asked Charles.

"Selling short, as they call it. That means—"

"I know—I learnt all about it at Kirby when we used to gamble in Rainer shares. Remember?"

"You must have lost everything." "Nearly everything. About thirty-two pounds all together." She laughed. "Well, why don't you sell short?"

"I will, if it amuses you. But I'd have no other reason."

"Yes, do it—to amuse me. Please, Charles."

"Then there's two things I have to do at the office tomorrow morning. He took out his notebook and made a pretense of writing something down. "Sell short to amuse Kitty. Also get Miss Hanslett to send out the wedding invitations."

"Who's Miss Hanslett?" "My new secretary. You saw her last time you called."

"Oh, that quiet girl?" "I suppose she's quiet. I certainly wouldn't want her to be noisy."

"Darling, how soon can we leave—afterwards?" "You mean for our world tour? Maybe next month. It'll be too late for the Danube, though, this year. We'd better do the Amazon first. Or the Nile."

"No, not the Nile—Jill's there."

"What's she doing?" "Looking at the tombs, I suppose, and having a good time."

But the laugh they rallied themselves into failed to shift the mood that made him, as soon as dinner was over, confess that he felt tired and would prefer an early night in bed. He dropped her at Jill's new house in St. John's Wood, where she was living with a cook-house-keeper, and kept the taxi for his own journey to Smith Square, but his apartment seemed so inexplicably cheerless that after a drink and an attempt to feel sleepy, he called another cab and drove round the West End till he found a film that looked tolerable enough for whiling away the rest of the evening. He stayed in the cinema less than an hour, his restlessness increasing all the time, so that at last he walked out and paced up and down the thronged pavements till past midnight, longing suddenly for the sun and snow of the Jungfrau-Joch, yet knowing that it was only a mirage of what he would still long for if by some miracle he were to be transplanted there.

Usually when he could not sleep he was quite satisfied to stay up reading, often until dawn; but that night he felt he would be far too restless to concentrate on any book, so he bought tablets and took several on his return to Smith Square. They gave him a heavy unrefreshing sleep, from which he woke about noon to find a penciled letter from Kitty at his bedside. It had been delivered by hand early that morning, and contained, in effect, the breaking of their engagement and an announcement that she was leaving immediately to join her step-mother in Luxor.

The first gray smudge was peering over the hills and it seemed that he both saw it together.

"Well, we've talked all night—and for the second time. Aren't you sleepy yet?"

"No. You were telling me about that letter, the one Kitty left for you. Didn't it give any reasons?"

"Plenty. But I really think we'd better go to bed if we're to be in any decent condition tomorrow. The crowd will soon be on us, worse luck."

"Then why do you have them here?"

"That's part of another story. Well, I must have a nightcap, even if it is morning. Have one with me?"

They went down to the library, feeling our way in the dim dawn shadows without switching on any of the house lights. Meanwhile he continued: "I'd show you that letter if I had it here, but it's locked up in my safe in the City. I admit

I'm sentimental about it—a little puzzled also.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)
Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

O Thou giver of every good and perfect gift, we pray that we might be enabled to face the future with equanimity. Give us faith to trust in thee; to believe that in spite of the castles and hopes which are crumbling to the earth, in spite of the failure of man-made methods for the establishment of peace, the arm of God is not shortened, and He who created all things still has the universe in the palm of His hand, and our future is still secure as long as we place that future in His keeping. ## FLEETWINGS' ARROWS TO PLAY U. S. COAST GUARD NINE ON TURNER CLUB FIELD, SUNDAY

The 1942 edition of the Fleetwings' baseball team, the Fleetwings' Arrows, will make its debut in a game Sunday afternoon with the U. S. Coast Guards from Philadelphia. The game will be played at the Turner Country Club, which is located at Eddington, along State Road.

As a special feature for the occasion the Bristol Cadets will make their appearance in honor of the Coast Guards' presence.

Fleetwings baseball manager, Joe Dougherty, announced today that his team is attempting to schedule principally either service teams or teams representing companies engaged in war production work.

In addition to the Coast Guards' game, the Bristol organization has already scheduled the Fort Dix team for July 14, and the U. S. Marines for July 19. According to Dougherty, preliminary plans have also been made with teams from Bendix, S. K. F., Kellogg Autogiro, and several service organizations.

No admission is charged for the games, which commence at 5 p. m., and the public as well as Fleetwings' employees are all invited to attend.

TWIN BOXERS TO BATTLE HERE IN ST. ANN'S ARENA

The Grasso Boys Are Booked On Card for Monday Night

IN THE WIND-UP

One of The Brothers To Fight

It Out With Tony

Maglione

The Grasso boys, Carmen and ### Frankie, one of the few sets of twin ### brothers in the boxing game, will be ### seen in action at the boxing card to ### be presented in the St. Ann's outdoor ### arena next Monday night.

Promoter Clem Cipparone had quite ### a bit of difficulty in securing the ### Grasso twins who are in demand in ### all parts of the east. Promoter Cipparone

has spared no expense in getting ### into action the well-known pair

of Kensington fighters.

And to top it off, one of the boys

will be in the windup and his oppon### ent will be none other than the Bristol

favorite Anthony Tony Maglione. In ### the opening show here several weeks

ago, popular Tony scored a knockout

over Harry Blackwell and now wants ### to make it two straight with a Kayo

victory over Carmen.

The other half of the Grasso twin,

Frankie, is pitted against Obie Glover,

Trenton. Glover fought Sam Corti

here Monday night and although the ### vote of the officials gave the fight to ### Corti, many fans thought that the ### colored boy should have been given the ### decision or a draw at the worst.

Glover, former New Jersey A. A. U.

champion, gave a fine account of him### self against Corti who is being looked ### as a future opponent for Tony Magli-

one. The Trenton colored boy has ### been in close bouts continually and ### is expected to continue his fine per### formance against Frankie Grasso.

Matchmaker Cipparone is now work### ing on the remainder of the card which ### will be completed in the next few
